Quality/Testing

• Proposal feedback was based on AI-generated transcripts of participant input during the workshops, with key points summarized by Japan Hub Council members. This approach helped reduce subjectivity and ensured the content reflected actual discussions.

Intersect Milestone Acceptance Form

• Translations were produced using AI tools, and then manually reviewed to ensure contextual accuracy and consistency in terminology.

• The workshops and town halls were conducted with key information prepared in advance, with a focus on clearly delivering the intended content without omissions or excess.

Communication

In April, the Japan Community Hub hosted two workshops introducing Intersect's vision, product roadmap, and the budget proposal process, along with an additional self-initiated showcase event. Over 80 participants joined in total, engaging in collaborative discussions around various proposals.

The resulting insights were submitted via GovTool, contributing to the collection and visibility of feedback from the Japanese community.

In addition, we conducted an online session via X Spaces, providing a platform for community updates and engagement.

The Hub also promoted greater understanding of Intersect's work in Japan by translating official materials into Japanese and sharing them through social media.

Moreover, the Hub participated in the TEAMZ Web3 Conference held in Tokyo on April 16–17, promoting awareness of the Cardano ecosystem and strengthening local networking efforts.

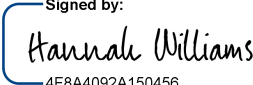

These activities were made possible through the strong collaboration with the Japan Hub Council. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to all members involved.
