community visibility and engagement.

We focused on the Budget process by hosting a Town Hall X Space, providing an open platform for members of the Intersect Growth and Marketing Committee, as well as community leaders like Beatrice Anihiri of the Cardano Atlantic Council, to share insights and perspectives on the budgeting framework and its impact on the ecosystem.

Over the past few weeks, we've been planning a side event at Consensus Toronto on May 16th to showcase the Cardano Ecosystem in Canada including Community Projects – Rare Network, Clay Nation, and Sundial.

Additionally, we hosted two virtual Budget Proposal Review workshops to support community engagement. On April 23rd, the first workshop had 29 RSVPs and 8 attendees, and on April 24th, the second had 18 RSVPs and 7 attendees.

Community members collaboratively reviewed proposals, providing comments for DReps to capture sentiment.
